

THREE WITNESSES DESCRIBE FINDING MARY PHAGAN'S BODY

BY SECTIONS TAX REFORM BILL IS ARGUED IN HOUSE

Test Vote May Come Today on Effort to Expunge From the Measure Section Sixteen.

SENATE INTERESTED IN PROGRESS OF BILL

That Body, Decisively for Revision, May Reject Appropriations Measure, Should It Fail.

With both sides lined up for the sharpest parliamentary contest of the session, the house took up the consideration of the tax equalization bill, reported by the committee on ways and means, yesterday morning.

Both sides—namely, those who favor and those who oppose a state board of equalizers—were distinctly on their mettle, and each sparring for the advantage, but no vote taken during the day could be regarded as a test or an indication of what the final outcome may be.

Whatever the house may do, it is almost certain that the senate will pass a strong equalization measure. The sentiment in that body is said to be overwhelmingly in favor of a substantial measure of tax reform.

Feeling in Senate.

So acute has the feeling become on the subject that the senate will hardly act on the general appropriation bill passed by the house before it learns what the house will do in the matter of tax revision, and the provision of sufficient revenue to pay the items of that bill.

A leading member of the senate committee on appropriations has gone so far even as to state that, unless the house passes an equalization measure the senate will not accept an appropriation bill which the governor has shown to be $250,000 in excess of the estimated revenue of the state, but will return it to the house for reductions that will bring it clearly within the estimated revenue.

Appropriations Jeopardized.

It will be seen then that every item of the general appropriation bill may be jeopardized by the adverse action of the house on the tax equalization measure. Members of the house who are interested in the various items of the appropriation bill will doubtless take note of this fact and govern their actions accordingly.

If a cut in appropriations is found to be necessary, it is not unlikely that the senate will insist upon a proportional reduction all along the line, affecting the common school fund and the pensions as well as the various state institutions.

Lipcomb's Bill Up.

Meanwhile, the house is going over the Lipcomb bill section by section with a view to perfecting it. With the following slight changes the bill was adopted by the house yesterday: Incorporating in it the various amendments of the ways and means committee, down to section 16. The changes are:

Section 1, amended on the suggestion of Representative Moon, of Troup, so as to provide for the appointment of one member of the state board of equalizers from north Georgia, the second from middle Georgia, and the third from south Georgia.

Section 12, amended by Representative.

NEW LEE MAY GET HIS FREEDOM TODAY

Solicitor Dorsey Will Probably Take the Matter Up With Judge L. S. Roan.

Now that New Lee, who has been held since the morning of April 27, when he telephoned the police of the presence of Mary Phagan's dead body in the pencil factory basement, has finished his testimony, the question has arisen in the minds of many as to what will be done with him.

When an attempt was made recently to secure Lee's freedom upon a habeas corpus, Solicitor Hugh Dorsey declared that he had no case against Lee and did not intend to ask his indictment, but that he regarded him as too valuable a witness to be turned loose.

It is expected that the solicitor will take up with Judge L. S. Roan today the question of giving Lee his freedom and that before the day is over the night watchman will see his first day of freedom since the morning when the murder was discovered.

MULHALL IS A LIAR AND BLACKMAILER, SAYS UNDERWOOD

Democratic Leader of House Appears Before the Lobby Probers and Denounces the "Star Witness."

Washington, July 29.—Martin M. Mulhall, practically finished today, his identification of letters he wrote and received in the ten years he claims to have been the lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers. Tomorrow the senate investigation committee will turn its attention to examination of Mulhall, and attorneys for the association and for the American Federation of Labor, also involved in the correspondence, will begin cross-examination of Mulhall.

Robert McCarver, counsel for the association, has asked the witness, Attorney Jackson H. Raiston, for the American Federation of Labor, has prepared about 100 more and no one knows how many separate questions members of the committee will submit to Mulhall before he is allowed to quit the witness chair in the senate wing of the capitol, and face the special house committee that is eagerly waiting his appearance across the rotunda.

Underwood Denounced Mulhall.

Mulhall's last day as an identifier of letters proved the most exciting of his two weeks on the stand. He was called a "liar" and a "blackmailer" by Majority Leader Underwood of the house and he swore he had tried to get Chairman Wilson of the labor committee interested in the story he was now telling and that speaker Clark and Minority Leader Mann, of the house, had turned down an opportunity to conduct an investigation of his activities. The speaker and Mr. Mann, he said, had been approached on this subject by Representative James T. McInerney, of Illinois.

At the front above Guaymas, Mexico, July 29.—Dieder Massen, from his big biplane, dropped bombs Monday afternoon around the gunboat Tampico, lying in Guaymas harbor.

Four bombs were dropped, one striking within a few feet of the federal gunboat. This probably gave rise to the report that the boat had been struck.

MEDICAL PRACTICE MEASURE PASSED

With Two Amendments the Bill Is Adopted by the Upper House by a Vote of 36 to 4.

After two hours of debate the medical practice bill, creating a composite board of medical examiners in this state and providing for the regulation of the practice of medicine in Georgia, was yesterday passed by the senate by a vote of 36 to 4. Those voting against the bill were Senators Bush, Hix, Dickey and Tarver. Senator Dickey asked unanimous consent that he be allowed to change his vote, but Senator Tarver objected.

The bill was passed with an amendment offered by Senator McNeill, allowing an appeal to the superior court for doctors who have had their licenses revoked by the state board. An amendment offered by Senator Stark requiring that all examinations for admission to practice in Georgia be held in writing was also passed.

Many other amendments were offered, but all were voted down by practically unanimous vote, except the one of Senator Watts, which allowed mental and spiritual doctors to charge fees for their services.

NEW LEE STICKS TO ORIGINAL STORY DESPITE ATTEMPTS TO CONFUSE NEGRO

Striking Feature of Day's Proceedings Was the Evident Effort on Part of Luther Rosser to Connect Watchman With Crime, or Show He Knew More Than He Has Told.

DORSEY SAYS DEFENSE IS TRYING TO IMPEACH TESTIMONY OF STARNES

Mr. Rosser Declared, However, That All He Was Trying to Do Was to Test the Memory of Detective Who Was Among First to Investigate the Murder of Mary Phagan in Factory.

During the second day's proceedings of the Leo M. Frank trial the sensation for which the morbidly curious have been craning their necks failed to materialize.

Nothing that has not been printed in the papers was brought out. The striking feature of the day's proceedings was the evident effort on the part of Luther Rosser to connect New Lee with the commission of the crime, or to show that he knew more about the death of Mary Phagan than he has thus far told. As on the previous day, Lee stuck to his original story, and through hours of what would have been acute torture to a man of refined sensibilities he was stolid in reiterating the details of how he had found the body, and of Leo M. Frank's words and actions on Memorial day, when the murder of Mary Phagan was committed.

Efforts Fail To Confuse Negro.

Seasoned courthouse officials and old reporters marveled at the way the negro held out against the crossfire of questions, all aimed to confuse him.

When at a loss to understand a question, he would have it repeated to him sometimes half a dozen times, and then he would illustrate his answers and the actions of Frank by graphic pantomime.

A drawing depicting a cross section of the National Pencil Factory played an important part in the day's proceedings. It was made to point out on this drawing just what he had done and where he had been in the building the night of the murder. The drawing was different for an illiterate person to decipher, but Lee was not confused to any extent, and then only for the moment.

Trial Progresses Slowly.

Only three witnesses were placed on the stand Tuesday—New Lee, who was testifying with an adjournment pending Monday, Sergeant Dobbie, of the police force, who went to the pencil factory the morning the body

CLASH OVER EVIDENCE OF DETECTIVE STARNES

Following which, Mr. Arnold again said:

"We don't want to impeach Starnes. We want to let him determine him—what he has a right to. If he remembers one thing perfectly, he can surely remember another. We only want to test his memory—that's all. They have a right to test his memory on everything but sworn testimony," said the solicitor. "Otherwise, it's unfair."

"You can pick out anything to which he testified in this trial," said Judge Ross. "That is my ruling."

Attorney Rosser insisted upon his question. However, Mr. Dorsey arose, exclaiming:

"Ask Referees of Rule."

"I ask the judge not only to rule, but to enforce the rule."

"You testified at the request of having made Lee rewrite the murder note, didn't you?" Mr. Rosser asked the witness. "Give me your exact words."

Before the witness could answer, Mr. Dorsey interposed:

"He must remind the witness of the exact time and place of the statement to which he has reference."

Mr. Rosser replied:

"I disclaim any disposition to impeach Officer Starnes."

An amendment was made to the judge's decision which permitted the attorney to ask this question:

"Can you recall your exact words at the inquest?"

"I may be able to do so, and I may not."

Testimony Is Important.

"Then, your telephone talk with Frank, as unimportant as you considered it—"

Mr. Dorsey objected, but was overruled.

"Was it an important message—did you consider it so?" Rosser resumed.

"Yes."

"Why? Ah, how did you recollect it so well?"

"I had witnesses—Doris Rogers and I think, Detective Black."

"Aren't you mistaken?"

"The witness passed, after which he said:

"Maybe so—I believe I am."

"Some witnesses of blood are still on the second floor, aren't they?"

"I suppose so."

"It was Monday you found the spots?"

"Yes."

"There was no way of telling how long they had been there, was there?"

"No."

Kids Floor Is Dirty.

"Isn't that floor the dirtiest you ever saw?"

"Not the dirtiest, although it's pretty dirty."

"Don't think I'm trying to impeach you, Starnes."

"I hope not—I'm trying to tell the truth."

"Do you know whether or not the back doors were open on the day of the tragedy?"

"I do not."

"Didn't you find all over the factory strings like this one?"

"The kind of cord found about the girls' trousers."

"I can't say it was exactly alike to even made in similar shape."

"As a matter of fact, there was plenty of cord in all parts of the factory."

"There generally were pieces of cord in all parts of the building."

"You are testifying now of facts as you know them, are you not?"

"Yes."

"Did you ever look for Mary Phagan's purse?"

"Yes."

Members of Mary Phagan's Family Who Are Attending Frank Trial

"Did you look for the artificial flowers and ribbon she wore on her hat?"

"Yes."

"Did you find either?"

"No."

The solicitor took up the question:

"Do you know, of your own knowledge, whether or not she had a purse with her when she was slain?"

"No."

"When you talked to Frank over the telephone that morning, were you guarded in what you said?"

"No."

Counsel for Defense Object.

Counsel for the defense objected to this question. Judge Ross ruled that the solicitor could ask the witness only what he had said to the defendant.

"Yes, I was guarded," admitted the witness.

Rosser took charge of the witness.

"What did you mean when you told a short time ago that your conversation with Frank was casual?"

A talk between two gentlemen over the telephone.

"Do you recognize these chips of wood as the pieces of the pencil factory—the ones containing the blood spots?"

"Yes, I recognize these chips of wood as the pieces of the pencil factory—the ones containing the blood spots."

At this point, the clothing worn by Mary Phagan when her body was discovered was submitted as evidence. Every piece, including a bloody handkerchief discovered near her body, was admitted without protest.

"Did you see Frank at police headquarters?" questioned Rosser.

"Yes—everyday he was there."

"Were you there Monday when he was summoned?"

"I believe so."

Starnes was dismissed from the stand.

The solicitor asked that the chart of the pencil factory, to which he had made frequent reference during all examinations of the day, be admitted as evidence.

evidence. Attorney Rosser asked first that he be allowed to inspect it.

Retreat Against Dredging.

He protested vigorously, saying that the drawing was inadmissible. It had once been used as a newspaper illustration to a story of the Phagan crime. He read from the key words inscribed at the bottom of the chart:

"Black dotted lines indicate course taken by the accused. Cross indicates where the girl was murdered on the second floor."

"I turned to face the solicitor."

"I don't think Mr. Dorsey or Mr. Rosser would undertake to put such a thing over on me."

Dorsey replied:

"I realized that the plot was inadmissible."

Drawing Will Be Changed.

"The whole drawing is an argumentative picture of the state's theory," said Mr. Arnold. "Pictures convey the strongest kind of argument. The dotted lines on this picture are as eloquent as words. A plot that is fair should be nothing but a bare representation of facts."

The solicitor agreed to remove the key words and lines from the chart, taken by the accused. Cross indicates where the girl was murdered on the second floor. The chart will be changed.

As the clock hands reached 5:07, the judge asked the solicitor if he had a "short witness" which he could place on the stand. Upon being informed that none was available, the session was adjourned until 5 o'clock this morning.

Sergeant Dobbs Resumes Stand
At Tuesday Afternoon Session

Sergeant L. S. Dobbs took the stand again at the afternoon session.

"Did you help take the girl's body from the basement?" Attorney Rosser questioned.

"I was there when the undertakers came," answered the sergeant.

"Who cleaned the girl's face?"

"Sergeant Brown, I believe."

"How?"

"With a piece of paper."

"How was the body removed?"

"In a corpse basket."

"How the examination was taken up by the solicitor general."

"What is the distance from the ladder to the spot where the body was found?"

"About 150 feet."

Found Slipper and Hat.

"Did you discover anything on a trash pile in the basement?"

"I found a slipper and saw a blue hat."

"Is this the hat?"

"The wide blue straw hat worn by Mary Phagan was held before the witness."

"Yes—that's it."

"Did you make any experiments in the basement?"

"About 10 o'clock that night I went to the basement in company with other policemen. We put a bundle in the spot on which the body was found, and with a lantern similar to the watchman's, were able to see it from the point at which Lee said he had first seen the body."

"Were you satisfied that Newt could see the body from the point which he had described?"

"An objection made by the defense to this question was sustained."

"Could an ordinary man carry a body through the scuttle hole in the first floor?"

"I hardly think so. It is difficult for a man to get through it alone."

"Were there signs of a body having been dragged in the basement in front of the elevator shaft?"

"Yes."

"How did the staple in the back of the door appear to have been extracted?"

"Pulled straight out and rigid."

"Any indication that it had been forced out by pressure from outside the door?"

"No."

"Was the girl's body warm or cold?"

"Cold and rigid."

"Describe its condition."

"The hands were folded across the breast, and it lay stretched out, head toward the scuttle hole."

"Did you search the first floor for scratch pads or clues?"

"Yes."

"Find any?"

"No."

"Do you know how the staple was extracted?"

"No—I have only an idea."

"Wouldn't it be possible for a man to drop a body through the scuttle hole?"

"Yes. If he dropped it through head-first."

"It was clearly evident from the nature of questions put by Mr. Rosser that the defense would attempt to show that Mary Phagan's body had been lowered through the scuttle hole and not carried down upon the elevator as argued by the prosecution. Sergeant Dobbs was then excused

Officer Tells About Discovery
Of Body of Girl in Basement

Sergeant L. S. Dobbs, one of the policemen who answered Lee's call to the factory, was put on the stand after Lee was dismissed.

He told of the call at about 1:20 a. m. on April 27, and of how he and Officers Anderson and Brown, with "Boots" Rogers, an ex-cop, a fireman, and Britt Craig, of The Constitution, went to the factory and found the body.

The officer declared, among other things, that Lee was not frightened or trembling when they got there, that they had difficulty in telling at first whether the girl was white or black, and that Lee had interrupted his reading of the note when he reached the word "night" by saying, "Boas, that's me."

Sergeant Dobbs went into detail about the cord around the girl's neck, and also the torn piece of underclothing tied loosely around the neck over the cord. He declared that the rope and piece of cloth exhibited were very similar to those he saw that morning, but would not swear they were the identical ones.

Knows She Was White.

"I couldn't tell at first whether the girl was white or black, and had to turn her over," he stated, "and when I saw her white skin on her body where her clothes were torn and when I brushed the dust off her face, I knew she was white."

"There was some blood on the back of her head and it was dry on the outside, and moist near the skull where I placed my hand," he continued. "A cord was tied so tightly around the neck that it had cut into the flesh and over that a piece of underclothing was tied, but it was not at all tight."

"I accused Lee of doing it or of knowing who did the officer went on, and I looked around and saw a couple of notes after I had poked this stick of mine into the scuttle. They read about like this—"

He had started to repeat the notes when the solicitor stopped him and was at this point that he testified that the cord and piece of cloth exhibited were very similar to those he had seen that morning.

"There was not much blood about the hair," he replied in answer to the solicitor.

"Was it moist or dry?"

"Dry on the outside and moist near the scalp."

"Was it moist or dry?"

the roots of the hair where I put my hands."

"Was it a damp or dry place where you found the body?"

"Well, rather damp."

Identifies Murder Notes.

Dobbs then identified the murder notes and also the scotchpad which he found near the body, one note at the foot and another near the girl's head.

"Did you know who this girl was?"

"No; but I learned later she was Mary Phagan."

He then was made to go into detail about the position of the body and of how he poked around in the scotchpad with his cane in search of some evidence.

Then the officer told of sending Lee to jail and declared that Lee was not excited but was cool. Solicitor Dorsey then had the officer go into detail about the drawing and Mr. Rosser made strenuous objections to this, but Dorsey won his point and Sergeant Dobbs finally declared that the drawing was perfect as far as he knew.

Mr. Rosser then took up the cross-examination and asked a number of questions about the picture, making the officer look away from it while answering. The attorney seemed to be doing his best to discredit the drawing.

"Was Lee excited?" he suddenly questioned.

"No."

"Could you tell if the girl was white or black right at once?"

"No, I could not."

"Did you have to turn the body over to see whether she was white or black?"

"Yes."

"Did the body look like it had been dragged and did there show any traces of the ground where it might have been dragged?" asked Mr. Rosser.

"Yes, sir. The body looked something like it had been dragged by the feet and with the face down and I thought I found evidence of where something like a body had been dragged from the elevator shaft to the place where the body lay."

"Did Mr. Apper excited?"

"Mr. Rosser again took up the question of whether or not the officer believed Lee was excited when he came in. Again Dobbs declared Lee did not appear excited."

From where Lee showed you he first saw the body, could it really have been seen?"

"I think so."

"Didn't you swear before the grand jury," said the attorney, "probably meaning the coroner's jury, that Lee could not have seen the body from where he told you he did see it?"

Sergeant Dobbs declared that he did not believe that he had said that before the coroner's jury.

"I thought I saw marks where a body had been dragged from the elevator shaft to where the dead girl lay," he answered the next question.

Here Mr. Rosser again produced the stenographic report of the coroner's hearing and declared that according to it the officer had declared that he did not see that the marks of where a body had been dragged began directly in front of the shaft.

At this point, the stenographer stuck out against what the stenographer had transcribed, so did the officer, and despite the production of the sworn notes of the court stenographer, the officer held his original statement and declared that he had at first declared that the marks of a body being dragged had begun in front of the shaft and that he had said that at all times.

Sergeant Dobbs then told of finding the staple pulled out the back door of the basement and the bar being pulled back. He was again made to go into detail in regard to reading the notes to the night watchman and swore that Lee had interrupted with, "That's me, Boas," when he reached the word "night" in reading the note. After he had gone into more detail about Lee's clothes and the torn or cut condition in which they were found, court adjourned until 2 o'clock.

or black?"

"Yes."

Reason for Questions.

Lee had previously testified that when he saw the body and got close enough to convince himself that it was really the body of a person and not a dummy placed there by some boys to frighten him that he could tell by the "stray hair and white spots on the face" that she was a white girl, and the attorney seemed to wish to start proof that Lee had either approached much closer to the body than he had said he did, or else knew something more about the affair than he had told.

Mr. Rosser then made Dobbs go over the detail of finding the notes and also of finding the girl's missing shoe and hat and of the fact that the ribbon upon the hat was gone when found it.

"Did the body look like it had been dragged and did there show any traces of the ground where it might have been dragged?" asked Mr. Rosser.

"Yes, sir. The body looked something like it had been dragged by the feet and with the face down and I thought I found evidence of where something like a body had been dragged from the elevator shaft to the place where the body lay."

"Did Mr. Apper excited?"

"Mr. Rosser again took up the question of whether or not the officer believed Lee was excited when he came in. Again Dobbs declared Lee did not appear excited."

From where Lee showed you he first saw the body, could it really have been seen?"

"I think so."

"Didn't you swear before the grand jury," said the attorney, "probably meaning the coroner's jury, that Lee could not have seen the body from where he told you he did see it?"

Sergeant Dobbs declared that he did not believe that he had said that before the coroner's jury.

"I thought I saw marks where a body had been dragged from the elevator shaft to where the dead girl lay," he answered the next question.

Here Mr. Rosser again produced the stenographic report of the coroner's hearing and declared that according to it the officer had declared that he did not see that the marks of where a body had been dragged began directly in front of the shaft.

At this point, the stenographer stuck out against what the stenographer had transcribed, so did the officer, and despite the production of the sworn notes of the court stenographer, the officer held his original statement and declared that he had at first declared that the marks of a body being dragged had begun in front of the shaft and that he had said that at all times.

Sergeant Dobbs then told of finding the staple pulled out the back door of the basement and the bar being pulled back. He was again made to go into detail in regard to reading the notes to the night watchman and swore that Lee had interrupted with, "That's me, Boas," when he reached the word "night" in reading the note. After he had gone into more detail about Lee's clothes and the torn or cut condition in which they were found, court adjourned until 2 o'clock.

Mother and Daughter in Tears As Clothing of Mary Phagan Is Exhibited in Courtroom

Solicitor Dorsey stood before Detective Starnes and held to view a lavender frock with a blue and pink ribbon at each shoulder. In the hand that was lowered at his side he held a white slipper.

"Do you recognize this dress?" he put to the witness.

"I do."

"To whom did it belong?"

"To Mary Phagan, the girl who was killed in the National Penitentiary."

Mother and Daughter Sob.

A moist-eyed woman began to flick her hair and betray her fifty years looked sadly upon the articles in the solicitor's hands. Her daughter beside her strove bravely to check her tears, but bowed her head in a sobbing fit she could not restrain.

They were Mrs. J. W. Coleman, Mary Phagan's mother, and Mary's sister, Ollie. Ollie could not remain in the courtroom and her mother lowered her head in tears as the lawyer displayed pieces by pieces, every article of the slain child's garments.

The solicitor held up to the girl's apparel in view of the entire courtroom for identification from the witness. As Starnes would signify that he recognized the articles before him the solicitor would say:

"This is such and such an article identified as having been worn by Mary Phagan on the day of her death. Is it admissible as evidence?"

Counsel for the defense would group their heads together at their table, nod consent, and Judge Roun, upon the bench, would say:

"Admitted as evidence."

It was a cruel proceeding, no doubt thought the mother and sister, but one made necessary by law. Many of the pieces they recognized, recalling with a tear the days they worked with thread and needle to fit Mary in the best their talents and home could afford.

Proud of Her Work.

And Mary, herself, had been a competent seamstress. She had always been making something and, whether it was doll clothing or her own dresses, she was always proud of it.

There the lawyer held in his hand the pink frock which had fastened the little girl's heart and which she had intended wearing to Maryetta the next Monday. He had one of her shoes—the pair she herself had selected and contributed a dollar of her wages toward the purchase—and was waiting to display when the dress was admitted.

Mrs. Coleman was crying softly, what mother, who had lost a loving daughter could have held back her tears? It was the first time she had ever been in a courtroom—and she had always striven to avoid them.

People stood at them all the while. The mother and daughter sat conspicuously, as the only seats they could find were two selected for them on the platform. Everywhere they looked eyes would be focused upon them.

But, even the gaze of the morbid, the sensation-seeking court auditor whom you will find at every tragedy, melted into a warming look of sympathy as his eyes met those of the sorrowing mother and sister.

Garbed in Black.

They were garbed in black—black from head to foot, with no relief. Heavy, dark veils fell over their faces, and they lifted them only when a handkerchief to filling eyes.

Mrs. Coleman had said to reporters—and so has Ollie—that they would not be at the trial were they not subpoenaed as witnesses. It is as hard for them to hear as the tragedy itself, for every phase of the proceedings brings memories of that bleak and unforgettable day when the little girl came down the stairs at daybreak and said to the home-folk of Mary's:

"Oh, Mrs. Coleman—Mary's been killed at the penitentiary!"

Monday morning Mrs. Coleman was the first witness called to the stand. She walked weakly and had to be assisted into the box. She whispered replies and choked back the catches in her throat. When the solicitor held the clothing of Mary before her eyes, asked her if they had been worn by the child, she tried to answer:

Breaks Down in Tears.

A tear in her throat and a gasp welled into her eyes. She drew the handkerchief to her face and broke into weeping. The solicitor, as though his task were fully as distasteful as it looked, dropped the garments to his table and began new questions.

Even Attorney Rosser, whose cross-examination is feared by the strongest witnesses, put his questions to the sobbing mother in a tone in which his sympathy was most evident. He asked barely a half dozen questions, then said:

"You may come down, Mrs. Coleman, without giving the state a chance for examination. In rebuttal knowing that even such a reluctant thing as the state would not wish to further persecute the bereaved parent."

That the big fight will be made upon the statements of Dr. Hurt, W. H. Minney, the negro Conley, the unknown physician and possible unknown witnesses, does not indicate that each point will not be contested to the very last and that each witness will be strained to the final ounce of the picks before two might armies come together.

Thus far the interest, while to a certain extent centered on the manner, has been mostly of the future tense. Every one is looking forward to what is to come.

A fierce skirmish that almost engaged the two sides in real and earnest conflict came over the cross-examination of New Lee, and in it the state won.

It is the amount of weight to be placed upon James Conley's affidavit, that if believed would convict Frank and if held false would mean the charge upon the maker, that the public waits.

Mock Deposed Upon Conley.

It is the amount of weight to be placed upon James Conley's affidavit, that if believed would convict Frank and if held false would mean the charge upon the maker, that the public waits.

What will Dr. J. M. Hurt, the coroner's physician, testify? This is a new question, who are closely following the developments from day to day.

Minney's affidavit, if believed, would hang Conley, as sure as Conley's would hang Frank, should it be believed.

There are other witnesses who will be produced. It is said, whose names have never been called, and one of these is said to be a physician who will be put upon the stand by the state in an attack upon Frank. While the evidence he will give is not known, it is asserted that his testimony is intended to establish a link in the state's chain of evidence.

What Defense May Do.

The probability that the defense will introduce no witnesses at all is something that has caused much speculation and many attorneys believe that they will not.

Then there is a slinging chance that the defense has a witness whom they are saving and whose testimony will come like a sudden discharge of Maxims upon an advancing army and either up the state's attacking force as they seek to establish their position.

Certain it is that a terrific fight will be made by the defense to batter down the negro Conley's testimony and that the grueling under which New Lee stood up Tuesday will be nothing to the assaults upon Conley.

Minney may expect the same treatment from the state and it is known that every effort will be made to attack the state's testimony and to show him unworthy of belief.

Dr. Hurt's Testimony.

That one of the great fights to be made by the defense will be upon Dr. Hurt's testimony is one of the later developments in the case. The public generally does not know who the physician will testify about the condition of the Phagan child's body and about a score of other details.

It is known that the defense has obtained at least an inkling of its import and is making every preparation to batter it down and to discredit it.

That the big fight will be made upon the statements of Dr. Hurt, W. H. Minney, the negro Conley, the unknown physician and possible unknown witnesses, does not indicate that each point will not be contested to the very last and that each witness will be strained to the final ounce of his strength before he is ready to leave the stand.

From the fight made on the first two days and the frequent references to the minutes of the coroner's hearing it appears that the case will last through another week and will be marked by the wonderful amount of detail in it.

First Two Days of Frank Trial Only Skirmishes Before Battle

CONSPIRACY ALLEGED AGAINST M'REYNOLDS

Hot Political Debate in House
Over the California White Slave Case.

Washington, July 29.—Vigorous criticism and determined defense of the attitude of Attorney General McReynolds and the administration, said the attack against the white slave cases marked the first of political debate in the house today.

Representative Kahn, of California, declared that "indisputable political influence" had something to do with the prosecution of the case in California, and "chairman" of the house judiciary committee, in a spirited defense of the attorney general, said the attack growing out of the Cincinnati case was a part of a general "conspiracy of the special interests to discredit an honest public official."

Chairman Clayton declared the "special interest" were instigating the attack on the attorney general because of his "careless prosecution of all offenders, high and low." As an instance of these attacks he cited the record of a newspaper article which set forth that the attorney general had issued instructions to United States attorneys not to proceed under the Mann white slave act except in cases where the offenders profited commercially from the transactions. However, Clayton read a various denial of this article in an official statement from the attorney general.

The gentleman from California, said Mr. Clayton, showing his respect for Representative Kahn, "is an honest attorney in the conspiracy to discredit a public official of irreproachable integrity and undoubted honesty." Republican, progressive and democratic generally joined in the debate, the democrats defending the administration and deprecating the attempts of "muck rakers" to discredit public officials.

The debate, forced by the republican filibuster which cut off all business in the house throughout last week, followed the presentation of a report from the judiciary committee on the debate that a resolution of Representative Kahn, calling on the attorney general for a telegram relating the facts as he laid upon the table, as the data asked for had been furnished.

When the house adjourned tonight the five hours debate on the resolution had not been exhausted and the session will be renewed when the house meets Friday.

A famous scientist condemns the light bottle

We reprint herewith an extract from an opinion rendered by a famous scientist showing that beer in light bottles can not remain pure.

"Beer bottles should be manufactured from reddish-brown glass, inasmuch as same will to a much higher degree than any other kind of glass, minimize the influence of the rays of light on the quality of beer, and will protect the latter against acquiring the disagreeable taste (Sonnengeschmack) due to the chemical action of light."

"In white and green glass bottles the beer is most affected by the action of the light. Such bottles are, therefore, absolutely inappropriate and should never be employed by brewers."

JURY RETURNS VERDICT AGAINST JIM CANTRELL

Alleged He Plotted Death of Af-finity's Husband and Made
Brother Commit Deed.

Gainesville, Ga., July 29.—(Special.) The trial of Jim Cantrell, Silvia Hawkins and Barlow Cantrell for the murder of Arthur Hawkins on the night of the 5th of May are in progress. Barlow Cantrell, the 18-year-old confessed murderer, pleaded guilty and is now the state's chief witness against his brother, Jim, who, he said, made him kill Hawkins.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty in the case of Jim Cantrell, and likewise some compromise is reached, he will hang.

The trial of Silvia Hawkins has not yet come off. No sentences have as yet been passed. It is rumored that Barlow Cantrell will withdraw his plea of guilty and trust to a trial via Hawkins. It is said to be the cause of the shooting because of her relations with Jim Cantrell. Barlow Cantrell, so he says, waylaid Hawkins and killed him at the command of Jim Cantrell. When seen at the jail none of the parties wished to make statements.

GOD OF LIGHTNING IN HUMOROUS MOOD

Columbus, Ga., July 29.—(Special.) Various freaks were played by lightning during a thunder storm in Florida City, Ala., today. A horse was standing hitched in the street and lightning struck the cross-bar of the shafts and reduced it to splinters, the animal not being injured in the slightest. Mrs. G. H. Clardy was lifting the lid from a rice boiler when lightning came along and rendered assistance, knocking it from her hand. Her arm was numb for some time, but her injuries were not serious. Various people were shocked, but not seriously hurt.

SUFFRAGE DEBATES LOSE AT GAINESVILLE

Gainesville, Ga., July 29.—(Special.)—Gainesville representatives, E. B. Dunlap and Hammond Johnson, won the unanimous decision for the negative in the woman suffrage debate here last night. No suffrage resolutions were introduced in Gainesville, though some preliminary steps were taken. The speeches were good. Miss K. Powell's address was magnificent in an omnibus plea. The trial was continued at a night session of court.

WOMAN CAUSED TRAGEDY ATLANTA POLICE STATE

Partee Is Bound Over by Recorder Broyles for Killing Jackson.

W. D. Partee, aged 35, an engineer on the Georgia railroad, who shot and killed Sam Jackson, another engineer, in the roundhouse of the Georgia railroad Monday afternoon, waived preliminary hearing before Recorder Broyles Tuesday morning and was held to the superior court without bond on a charge of murder.

The shooting took place shortly after 3 o'clock Monday afternoon in the roundhouse of the Georgia railroad. Partee had been alerted from his quarters by the sound of his rifle. Although Partee and his friends refused to tell the cause of the shooting, investigation by the police, however, made through Detective Sturdivant and Davis uncovered the fact that Partee had made charges that Jackson had been intimate with the wife of another engineer on the Georgia railroad.

Some days ago the story reached the ears of the husband, according to the detectives, and he immediately came to Jackson and demanded an explanation. Jackson denied the charges and expressed his willingness to refute them to Partee in the husband's presence. Accordingly, the two men were in waiting for Partee Monday afternoon to demand an explanation. They followed Partee into the roundhouse and Jackson called to him, say the police. As Jackson spoke, Partee turned, drawing his weapon as he did so, and fired once, without speaking.

Partee claims that friends have come to him several times within the past week, repeating threats made against him by Jackson, and that he shot "in self-defense." He stated that he saw Jackson advancing on him, with a pistol drawn, and he fired. He admitted that a weapon was recovered beneath the coat, and called upon Jackson to surrender. He then fired a second shot, which he said he fired in self-defense.

Attorney John W. Moore has been retained by Partee to conduct his defense. Funeral arrangements have not been made, pending the arrival of relatives.

JEWELS WORTH $70,000 SECURED BY BURGLARS

New York, July 29.—Gems valued at $70,000, including a rope of pearls worth $60,000 were stolen from the home of C. C. Rumsay at Narragansett Pier during the twenty-four hours ending Sunday night. Mrs. Rumsay was a daughter of the late E. H. Harriman. The theft was made known today.

The rope of pearls was given to Mrs. Rumsay by her mother and had a sentimental value far in excess of its intrinsic worth. Other jewels stolen included the following:

Ruby and pearl pendant.
Gold pin set with magnificent ruby solitaire.
Diamond brooch.
Gold mesh bag.
Mrs. Rumsay's home was entered some time between 8 o'clock Sunday night and the same hour Sunday.

The theft had not been reported to the police this afternoon and Mr. Teggett, secretary to the late E. H. Harriman, who made the announcement, said that private detectives were working on the case and probably would handle it independently of the police.

"Seventy thousand dollars is a conservative estimate of the value of the jewels which were stolen," Teggett said.

Rumsay Wanted Nephew.
Narragansett Pier, R. I., July 29.—The jewel robbery at the summer home of C. C. Rumsay, a member of the Cooperstown polo team, was reported to the local police last Sunday, but, on the solicitation of Mr. Rumsay, was kept quiet, and no one went to the house to investigate until last night. Mr. Rumsay refused to have a police officer visit his house Sunday evening, but yesterday consented, and B. A. Brown, a constable, remained on watch all night. The police as well as private detectives have been at work on the case.

It is the belief of Mr. Rumsay and Chief Caswell that the robber entered by the front door and stole the gems last Saturday night while Mr. and Mrs. Rumsay were at the casino. They left about 5 o'clock and returned at 11, finding all the servants asleep. No one in the household could remember having heard any suspicious sounds during the period the robbery must have been committed. In the room adjoining that from which the jewels were taken slept the nurse and child. They were not disturbed.

Private detectives working on the theft believe that an Oregon grinder who lusted about the house during the morning and afternoon previous the robbery may have been laying plans for the robbery.

Mrs. Rumsay kept her jewels in an unlocked drawer of her bureau, and the doors and windows of the house usually were left unfastened day and night. The jewels were in their accustomed place when Mrs. Rumsay dressed for dinner Saturday evening and were not there the next night.

The price of pearls has continued to rise, and the largest weighing 1.1 grains.

The local police have long believed that a ring of extortion robbers has been systematically "working" this place, dipping of their booty through a "fence" in Boston.

MASONS WILL HOLD MEETING IN CONYERS

The Masons in the fifth congressional district are preparing to hold their annual convention in Conyers, Ga., on Thursday, the 10th of August.

The grand master, Robert L. Collins, of Savannah, is expected, and other prominent Masons will be in attendance. The various Masonic degrees will be exemplified by special degree teams from the various Atlanta lodges.

The Masons of Conyers have promised a warm welcome and a plenty of good things to eat and a general all-around good time. It is expected that a large number of Masons will be in attendance.

A special train is being arranged for to carry the Masons from Atlanta and the nearby towns.

NO AGREEMENT YET ABOUT MACON DEPOT

Macon, Ga., July 29.—(Special.)—The Central of Georgia railway, through Vice President W. A. Winburn, has written that the road is willing to submit to arbitration the claims of the property owners below Fifth street who allege they will be damaged by the closing of Cherry street for the new union passenger station to be erected here.

The Central makes the condition, however, that the limit to be paid by that road be $15,000, whereas the figure already given by the property owners as the amount they will be damaged already reaches a quarter of a million dollars.

A conference will be held in Atlanta Thursday between Mayor Moore, President of the Macon Chamber of Commerce, and Attorney R. L. Berrier, representing the city of Macon; Chairman Candler, of the railroad commission, and Vice President Winburn, of the Central, for a discussion of the matter.

Mayor Moore said this afternoon that the city of Macon has done everything that it can and intends to do, and if the Central does not get busy and do something, the bill now pending before the legislature, giving the Central certain valuable grants will be withdrawn and instead of ordinary means, extraordinary means will be invoked to bring the Central to terms.

TWENTY MEN IN CRASH AND NONE IS INJURED

Athens, Ga., July 29.—(Special.)—Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock the entire framed roof of a lively stable fell in without warning with twenty mechanics on the timbers, and six or seven workmen and one of the owners underneath, and not a man of them was hurt beyond a mere scratch on the hand and a splinter on the cheek of one helper. A negro boy who was asleep in the corner which was improvised into an office, woke up, though the entire roof and timbers supporting it, an area of 1,000 square feet, crashed down about his ears. The place, a stable and livery stable, with brick walls, was recently burned and was being rebuilt. It is owned by Coroner C. N. Weatherly and his brother.

Sen. McGregor Would Hold Up Appropriations Until the House Provides For More Revenue

Major C. E. McGregor, of Warren county, senator from the nineteenth Georgia senatorial district, and a leader in the Georgia senate, would have that body holds up the appropriations bill, the Senate will be forced to pass the less the house passes legislation, thus providing for the $250,000 in excess of current annual income which the bill now provides.

"I regard the practice of piling up a big difference between outgo and income every year a dangerous and undesirable practice," said the speaker, Rep. McGowan yesterday.

"I think it is a very serious matter if the budget doesn't show so great a surplus," he said.

"I don't see how so great and rapid a state can do what is forbidden by the constitution without incurring the wrath of the people."

McGowan said the Senate will not pass the bill until it is amended to provide for a tax increase.

The house bill now carries appropriations $28,000 in excess of the estimated revenue. The house is also considering measures to make up this deficiency and put the fiscal system to satisfaction. The appropriation of money unless it is shown where it is coming from, and that is what I shall advise the senate to do."

And it is said that this is about the position of the senate.

HUEY MUST OUT MEXICAN PRESIDENCY

Attitude of the United States Makes His Abdication Inevitable—Leading Mexicans Seeking Compromise.

Washington, July 29.—President Wilson and Secretary Bryan devoted themselves today to a study of the voluminous reports at their disposal on conditions in Mexico. Indications were that with the appearance before the senate committee on foreign relations tomorrow of Ambassador Llanos Wilson the last stage in the program of the administration in disavowing the facts of the situation favoring a policy would be reached.

While a resolution was introduced for a joint committee to obtain documents in the Mexican situation and another in the senate, the opinion of that body on the question of recognizing the bolshavniks and the constitutionalist administration officials again declared there would be no haste in formulating a definite policy toward Mexico.

Secretary Bryan stated that his proposition for mediation had been submitted to either of the two factions in Mexico, and indicated that he marked that he might go back to the lecture platform in a few days. The present condition of affairs in Mexico is considered acute here.

The development of a policy by the United States may be delayed to observe the outcome of efforts being made by leading American statesmen to bring about an understanding between the warring factions.

Proposed American Policy.

Some administration officials have proposed that the American policy be pursued along a successful alternative.

First, they suggest the United States should refrain from interference while the Mexican leaders themselves endeavor to come to their own differences. The attitude of the United States against recognizing the Huerta administration already is being outlined in Mexico, according to reports here, as indicating that the abdication of Huerta is in favor of a compromise provisional president is inevitable.

Second, should all efforts fail, the Mexicans to adjust the dispute fall, it is proposed that influential members of the senate that the embargo on arms be lifted and the two factions be permitted to obtain munitions of war on an equality. Some senators freely predict a decisive result in quick time under these circumstances.

Third, should peace be delayed, the suggestion is that the United States offer to mediate through a commission.

Fourth, as a last resort it is suggested that a tripartite committee, composed of representatives of the United States and Latin American nations, could endeavor to bring about a settlement by peaceful means.

Huerta to Protect Americans.

A declaration from President Huerta, that no Mexican in Mexico will suffer injury or violence "with his confidence," was made public by the Mexican government today in the following announcement:

President Huerta has expressed himself as regretting very much that the American government should assume to interfere in Mexico. The Mexican government will not permit any action which might be construed as an interference with the sovereignty of the United States. The Mexican government is assured that no American will be injured or violence will be done to Americans with his confidence while he remains in Mexico.

The Mexican consulate at El Paso has informed the Mexican foreign office that the matter of the abrogation of Huerta has been satisfactorily arranged. It is stated that the government of Mexico City seems most desirous of meeting the desires of the United States in every way possible.

Young Woman on Washington Street Calls Police to Scene.

When one of the three young women occupying the apartment No. 8, on the second floor of 43 Washington street, glanced out her window last night at 10 o'clock, as she was preparing to retire, she was horrified to see in the window of the Central Presbyterian church, which adjoins the apartment house, the leering faces of two young white men, looking down into her room.

Without betraying to the watchers, however, that they were observed, she walked into another room, beyond the vision of the men, and telephoned to police headquarters.

Officers Cochran and Sumate were sent in response to the complaint, and placed the men under arrest. They gave their names and occupations as W. E. Nace, age 17, printer, of 32 Daniel street, and E. R. Greenlee, 400 Spring street, age 18, collector.

They would give no explanation of their presence there and refused to talk to the officers at all. Nace was recently employed in the church on some repair work, and probably had a key to one of the doors.

Mrs. W. T. Walton Dies in Ambulance on Way to Grady Hospital.

Seized with a violent hemorrhage of the lungs while watching the pictures at the Alcazar theater Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. W. T. Walton, aged 18, of 28 English avenue, died on the way to Grady hospital, after being placed in an ambulance.

Mrs. Walton had been failing in health for some months past, but of late seemed much improved. Tuesday morning Mrs. Walton, accompanied by her sister, Miss Ruby Orr, of 1010 E. 10th street, made one of her rare excursions to the center of the city to witness the motion picture plays.

The party had been seated in the theater only a few minutes when Mrs. Walton was attacked with a hemorrhage of the lungs. An ambulance was hastily called, and although only a few minutes had passed since the seizure, Mrs. Walton died before the hospital could be reached.

Mrs. Walton was survived by her husband, Mr. W. T. Walton, of 28 English avenue, and her brother, J. H. Orr, and sister, Miss Ruby Orr.
